Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 21 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rain clearing for most overnight and winds easing.

This Evening and Tonight:
Further outbreaks of rain for many in the evening, and then clearing overnight as it becomes increasingly confined to far northern and western areas. Largely cloudy elsewhere and winds easing throughout. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Saturday:
Any residual rain from previous night clearing during the morning as cloud slowly moves eastwards, allowing for brighter skies in the afternoon. The odd shower is still possible for some. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Showers on Sunday, followed by a band of locally heavy rain spreading across the country from the west. Further showers on Monday and Tuesday, heavy at times. Windy throughout outlook.
